JOHN O'CONNOR

The book gives a history of Australian military parachuting beginning with its introduction into the RAAF in 1926.

Included is the story of the creation of a parachute battalion in 1942, the WWII para operations by Z Special Unit, the Nadzab jump by 2/4th Field Regt in 1943, the operational jump by 3 SAS Sqn on Operation Stirling in 1969 and para activities by members of AATTV in Vietnam.

All Special Forces units are covered, as well as, special parachute 'life-saving' clubs and other airborne clubs.

For the first time, military competition parachuting has been documented, together with the names of most international team members and the medals won by them. The operations of the various parachute training schools (PTU, PTF, PTW & PTS) are explained along with a list of all Parachute Jump Instructors.

The airborne activities of Riggers and Air Dispatchers are also included, together with a list of all Army Parachute Riggers. Additionally, the book contains a comprehensive history on Cadet Parachuting, as well as, a record of all types of parachutes used by the military.

The A4 size, hard covered book of 440 pages features many hundreds of colour and black & white photos of personnel, special events, badges, certificates, medals, pins and special awards.
